

KEVIN BBUS (HOSPITALITY & TOURISM MANAGEMENT)

Originally hailing from Sweden, Brisbane student Kevin experienced a huge adjustment when he commenced study as a HTM student with Kaplan Business School.

One trimester into his study, he quickly realised the extent of hardship and barriers that international students face in accessing the job market post-graduation. Kevin didn't rest on his laurels, instead he took action and identified that an Academic Internship would be the perfect opportunity to gain hospitality and tourism industry experience, grow his professional network by meeting new people, and identifying mentors and professionals in the industry that could provide career guidance.

Kevin was placed in an Academic Internship at the W Hotel in Brisbane. As he progressed through his internship, the HR team at the W Hotel recognised his energetic spirit, dedication, attitude, and willingness to go above and beyond. Kevin was recently offered a paid position with the hotel as a Front Desk Agent – which means he is responsible for greeting guests and providing exceptional customer service within a 5 star hotel environment.

For Kevin, this has been a life changing opportunity – one that is directly helping him forge a career in Australia and setting him up for career success in the future. A huge congratulations to Kevin!
